

“They Know Not What They Do” AN ILLUSTRATED GUIDE TO MONARCH PROGRAMMING MIND CONTROL BY CISCO WHEELER WITH FRITZ SPRINGMEIER

PICTURES BY A SATANIC RITUAL ABUSE AND MONARCH MIND-CONTROL SURVIVOR

[Part 4 of 7]

TWINNING It's best if a therapist is acquainted with twinning before trying to help an Illuminati slave. Doctor Joseph Mengele, our primary programmer, used thousands of twins for experimentation. One of the common characteristics of victims of Monarch Mind Control is that they think they have a twin somewhere. I can't state as a fact that they always do have one, but the survivors I have worked with all have actual Systems with which they have been via magic and programming twinned with. The twinning of two Multiple Personality Disorder Systems provides a number of advantages to the Controllers. Sometimes jobs require a team rather than individuals. A team will also tend to motivate and encourage each other in the direction the Controllers want (in other words peer pressure). If one person wants to drop out of the program others can lift that person back up in place. Further, twinning can have experimental advantages. And it can provide backups in case they want to be certain a dangerous job gets done. Please note this important feature of our programming: all the Illuminati twins we know of were programmed to die if their twins were deprogrammed or if their twin would die. A therapist may note that alters can be created that use capabilities that existed prior to the dissociative wall that separates them from their alter of origin. A system will have a common pool of capacities and capabilities. When we try to make sense out of the abilities that different alters have and their traits, we find that a System will have certain common characteristics. Some Systems are more logical, some are crueler, some are more adept at conversation, some are more nurturing, some are gentler, some are more comical as a whole. One of the features of Multiple Personality Disorder is that there is always some unity among alters of a System as well as some disunity. There are many types of Baptists, or Mennonites for instance, and to outsiders the different Baptist or Mennonite groups have common features, but to the insider the different factions are separate independent groups. Different Systems will tend to be set up for a specialty. This Monarch System may be used as a programmer, this one for a nurturer during programming, and this System as a spy. Each of these Systems has many more possible uses, but the particular unifying quality they have that runs through their System will often be paired with their primary purpose. This is important to note, because the Illuminati and C I A build secret teams. Neither twin of a two-person team has all the knowledge or abilities to get the job done. They must function as a team for best results. This is the same type of training the military gives. Each man in a squad gets a specialty, but he also has some training in the areas of those who he is teamed with. Certain people are assigned oversight to two-person and four-person teams that have been secretly twinned together. Our System had a code name in relation to another System which was the code name for the team, and then we had another code name for us as an individual. Cameo referred to us and another code word referred to our twin. When Illuminati twins meet, they must touch each other in a certain occult way and go through a certain ritual in order to become a working team. They can be joined up with another pair to make a four-person team. It is believed that our four-person team was then spiritually linked to four Satanic programmers. This was another link to ensure that the hold that they had on us could not be broken. If a therapist is going to deprogram an Illuminati slave, the therapist should take into account that what he or she does to the victim they are trying to help, may be seriously hurting their twin. Although the world is not ready to believe this, Monarch twins are given occult training to communicate telepathically. Anything that affects one of the twins, has the potential to affect the other twin. Because the world is not ready to accept the type of occult training that the Illuminati give their people they will scoff at the idea of astral projection, mind reading, telepathy, etcetera. The C I A has spent hundreds of millions of dollars in these areas of research. One of the Systems we know was designed as a Theta model. This type of training was to prepare him as a psychic warrior. Our System was taught to put thoughts into people's heads, or to get into their minds. He was trained in these areas, too. The occult world has not told all their secrets about these abilities. They try to give their Monarch slaves this special type of capabilities. Again, whether one wants to label these abilities as natural or demonic, they are part of the training built into Monarch Systems and they play a role in the lives of their victims. This is why some of the simplistic approaches toward dealing with victims of Monarch mind control fail so miserably. If the therapist finds these paranormal abilities hard to accept as real, the therapist at least can take into account that they play a big role in the thinking of the victims of Illuminati Mind Control. For more on twinning read the next article called "Sisters".

SISTERS In the picture we see two "twinned" sisters. Central to the picture is the clock pendulum which continues keeping time. Just like time continues to tick away whether we are conscious of it or not, the twinning programming continues to tick away inside Systems which have been twinned together. It is common procedure in the Illuminati to adopt children out to other occult families in order to hide lineages and parenthood. Satanists will secretly impregnate women of the Illuminati in order to create secret siblings. From our experience it looks like actual half-sisters are used for creating programmed twins. Perhaps there are exceptions, but that is what we saw growing up in the Illuminati. Even if there was an exception and the "twins" are not half-sisters, after they have been programmed to believe so, then they function with that understanding. Many of the survivors of the type of mind control we experienced have been adopted or raised by people other than their actual parents. Our dark side alters were not allowed to realize that they had a family in the world. The only family they knew was the cult family. Aunts who were already in the Illuminati as Mothers of Darkness helped program and groom us. One of these aunts required us to thank her when she electroshocked us. We thanked her for having disciplined us to make us good. From what we know, the generational Satanic families have been creating Multiple Personality Disorder for generations. Our father and aunts had Multiple Personality Disorder. Our Monarch twin sister was trauma-bonded to us. In other words, some of the same type of programming that bonded us to our abusers was used to bond us to our "twin". Therapists would do twinned sisters a favor if they make an effort to console and counsel with their clients' twins. At times, the therapist has no idea that his client is bonded very closely with someone else. If one twin goes into the hospital the other one feels it. If one dies, the other twin may very well die. Monarch twins will have alters in each other's Systems who look like the other person, and who have the same names. Male twins and female twins may well have parts of their Systems which relate to each other sexually. Parts of our System were placed in competition with parts of our twin for the affection of our programmer. I say this so that people understand how the bonding between two Systems can be on many different levels, and is complex. Just because two front alters of two Systems don't have a close relation, doesn't mean that deeper parts don't feel very close. The trauma bonding will produce a love-hate relationship between two Systems, too. When two Systems meet, a wild party takes place as dozens of alters pop in and out and communication takes place on many different levels. Besides having alters which are images of our twins, we had mirror images of all our alters. Understanding a Monarch multiple's System is not easy. For more on twinning programming see the previous page on Twinning.

FEAR! Monarch Programming can be summed up by one emotion FEAR. FEAR crashes through the System like the tidal waves in the bottom of the picture. Life under the programming is hell. The fires of hell bum portraying the fire torture and the mind's own internal hell pit. Crossing programming boundaries caused the body to bum. Then the horrible burning would be followed by tire shattering of the mind. The programmer's (our first one was Doctor Mengele, also known as Doctor Green) internal boxes in the lower right are opening and all hell is breaking loose. The shattered glass shows the shattered fragile mind. The shattered glass also tells the reason why this picture was made. The System was told by its therapist to break a mirror. The therapist did not know that demons are connected with the mirrors, and memories are hidden behind the mirrors. Breaking a mirror releases hordes of terrifying demons. The memories were locked up by torture and sexual sealing rituals. The sexual sealing was to implant demons who would protect the memories. Suicide programming is released when the mirror is broken. The demons carry the controlling force that has been driving our programming. When they were correctly dealt with, we for the first time in our lives no longer felt driven. The System has many child alters like the one on top who have been terrified. The mind screams silently. The mazes represent the internal mazes in the mind, and the compartments and rooms of tire mind. A dollhouse was set up in our system. The Dollhouse was part of the Omega programming, which is the computer structuring within the System. A large dollhouse was used as the imagery to create the structure of the front computers in the little girl's mind. Each level corresponds to a room in the dollhouse. The rooms are in different colors. The rooms have ways that they connect. The rooms have hidden closets and hidden boxes. Each room is operated by a particular-colored light. Unscrewing the light takes out that computer's energy source. The deepest level of the Omega programming was the dollhouse basement. Ten other rooms were tentatively identified in our system, they were the Formal Room, the Door and Entryway, Bathroom, Sitting Room, Closet, Kitchen, and Living Room. The rooms were identified with an area of the System and a color. Notice the mirrors on the left which are shattered. Our System's memories were protected by spiritual entities (demons of various appearances) who were released when the mirrors were shattered. They carry the controlling force that gives impetus to cut, hang, run, tear, and disembowel, etcetera. They were the force behind the programming. They carried a great deal of fear with them. A great cat can be seen. This great cat has a long occult history. In our System the great cat visited with the Mothers of Darkness alters. It is the president of the Sovereign chiefs and the governor of the holy circle. "Thou art indeed the Great Cat." Sometimes the great internal cat sits at your feet looking into your face with an expression filled with kindness, warmth and understanding. The depth of its eyes seems eternal, all knowing, and all powerful. Then its anger engulfs the cats and it raises up in its fury and paralyzes the System. This is its warning, "Do not go any further." Wild beasts of different kinds are terrified and spread terror in the System. Where is the light at the end of the tunnel for all this terror and trauma? That light is to retreat into a phantasy world. The girl looks into her fantasy world while she clutches her symbol of helplessness, her teddy bear.

THE HORROR, TORTURE, AND ABREACTION OF MEMORIES When a System of Monarch alters finds out about itself, it triggers all types of programming. This picture was done after information triggered memories. The out-of-control Freedom train is running down its track. Internal and external controllers are pictured. The checkered path is the yellow brick road that the System is being compelled to travel. The top of the picture shows the branches of the tree which run through the entire system and hold the programming as fruit on their Limbs. The world of blackness is pulling the System under. The soul is being tormented by suicidal thoughts. Beasts rip the girl apart. The master credit card has a dual purpose, an actual credit card was used to access the System. The System was given credit to buy as long as the System behaved. The Master's credit made him appear benevolent; the master's credit was a key to our affection. Internal wolves (demonic entities) prowl through the System. Our Master is pictured saying, "Aha! I know just the thing," because our Master decided what clothes we wore, what our names were, and what our activities would be. Many items in the picture serve more than one meaning. The out-of-control Freedom train also reminds us that we were commanded as a child to walk down a railroad track to be met and accessed by our Master. The System transported things so the mule and the airplane have personal meaning to the System on how the System was used. One of the System's castles, the Emerald City, is seen in the background. Many types of castles were built into our different quadrants which were connected to hour glasses rotating on X, Y, and Z axes. How many different emotions by the girl are shown in this picture? There is fear, puzzlement, happiness, anger, and death to name some of them. These emotions were all going off in the System at one point in time. The one in the upper left has her head turned away indicating that some alters turned their backs on the whole mess and stayed in denial. Our System would experience something and different alters will react to the same event differently depending upon what collection of abilities and personality traits they have. Different alters carried different memories. When memories began surfacing, we were told that abreaction to memories was good. But instinct told us just the opposite. Later, we learned that abreaction is not necessary and is actually dangerous. However, when the programming is still running, the System would flood with memories and nobody had the know how to protect us from the flooding. Much of the help that therapists can give Monarch mind-controlled Slaves is in the area of dealing with memories. Therapists can help the victim learn how to distance themselves from the memory when it comes up, and how to dispose of the memory. One of the items that our System tried was to write memories down to pull the memory through another area of the brain. The out-of-control Freedom Train is an apt portrayal of how helpless we have felt at times in dealing with our memories. The torture and abuse are designed so that the mind will protect itself from the trauma via disassociation.

CONDITIONING AND DRUGS When we began to break free of the programming, we had bits and pieces of what was done to us. We also began getting memories back in bits and pieces. Our System was conditioned by our programmers just like you would train an animal. Some of our parts were used to help the programmers program others. Victims who are being programmed can be hypnotized even if they try to resist by a few grams of paraldehyde or an intravenous injection of sodium pentothal or sodium amytal. As we look back, we can begin to describe things which were done to us such as Aversion Therapy to groom us, and electro-shock to destroy our memory of events. We have alters who will beg their handler to be electro-shocked or beg to be hurt and punished. We were programmed to believe that we deserved such cruel treatment. Some alters feel pain and punishment is love. After punishing us, our controllers would laugh at us for having begged to be hurt, adding insult to injury. They could hypnotically heal some of our wounds which helped them rationalize their cruelty to us. They also felt they were setting us up for a great career in the Illuminati. Our System received a wide array of mind-altering drugs and a vast amount of electroshock. From the memories we have been getting it is possible to begin to catalog some of the drugs they may have used on us during programming. Sometimes we feel a need to cut our veins, as if we were remembering a bad L S D trip. Sometimes we feel like we are suffocating and drowning, as if a necktie had been injected into us for misbehavior. We know that drugs were given us to allow them to hypnotize us very deeply. Our trances were taken almost to the point of death. Sometimes our body feels like it is on fire. Some of the burning may well have been conditioned into us via drugs, which cause extreme sensations of being burned alive. They could put us into a "twilight sleep" with the use of injected drugs. In the Twilight sleep state, our subconscious mind was very susceptible to suggestions. They set up our System, so that for years we only slept for short periods and never went into R E M sleep. They made sure that we self-abused our own mind, by only sleeping in those phases of sleep that enhanced their mind control. The most dangerous alters in our System were created by desensitization to violence, along with several other programming tricks. Our System and other Systems who are also getting free along with us, independently remembered the high-speed films which were shown us. We remember being strapped in a chair while one film was shown in one eye and another in the other eye. Violence was shown in one eye, and family vacations, etcetera, in the other. Violent films were shown to some of the deeper alters to the point blood and gore mean nothing to them. They were also conditioned to believe they are elite and that everyone is their enemy. By teaching them to hate their enemies, when these alters are needed to kill, they can access those memories of hate and feelings toward enemies. Handlers know how to make alters feel threatened if they want alters to hurt someone. One thing we found out over the years is that our programmers kept records on us. They recorded every ritual, every memory, every torture, and they kept track of those memories with codes. When they wanted to blackmail us, they showed us past films of what we had done. When our self-governing programming wanted to keep an alter in line, the internal programmers would bombard that alter with a horrible memory that would keep recycling. We had layered programming on top of memories. In fact, they at one point tried to destroy our minds by recycling horrible memories. This happened when we hit a back-up program called the Princess Program. Several other survivors also had the same series of difficulties when they hit their back-up Princess Programming, too. These memories had been stored in our castle's torture dungeon. Our memories of being used were often locked behind posthypnotic blocks, and only the Programmers (internal and external) have known what the alpha-numeric cues were to release those memories. They layer in false memories and false messages to protect the real. False memories do not have the variety of sensations that the real memories have. In our real memories, we can hear, and feel, and smell, etcetera, everything that is going on. During the time that they used us, we noticed that they generally got what they wanted from most people. If a politician or soldier or other desirable person did not on their own want to serve their cause, they would bribe them. If they couldn't be bribed then, they were threatened and bribed or blackmailed and bribed. If that failed, the person could be mentally rearranged to suit their needs or simply TWEP-ed (Terminated With Extreme Prejudice). Unfortunately, parts of our System were designed to help them do these things. Half a dozen of us who knew each other have managed to get out. Our experiences in being used together and having experienced the same things validate to us what happened. In addition to this, our best friend managed to witness how we were being accessed and being used. It sounds on paper like it was easy to put the pieces together as to what had been done to us. Actually, it wasn't so easy because they scattered and buried so many of our memories deep in our mind locked up by almost unbreakable techniques that almost totally ensure that their secrets will remain secrets.

ALICE IN MONARCHLAND The picture has Alice in its center and is full of mirrors which are represented by the various reflecting glass objects. At the time this picture was done it showed some things which were very important to the System. The King is King Ahab and he is defending his vineyard with Jezebel. Although this drawing has a story behind it, it also gives us an opportunity to explain what we would like to say about the book Alice in Wonderland. When we were programmed, we got not only Wizard of Oz programming, and programming which misused the Bible stories (such as King Ahab), but we also got Alice in Wonderland programming. Our System has its share of mirror images and reversals. We would go through the looking glass, and we would fall down an oak tree by falling into a deeper and deeper trance. Monarch programming is a reflection of how Satan's mind works. Lewis Carroll's book with its inversion themes fits in with this type of thinking. Lewis Carroll loved the humor of logical contradictions. In the book, Alice wonders if cats eat bats or bats eat cats, and she is told that to say what she means is not the same as meaning what she says. When she eats the left side of the mushroom, she grows large; the right side has the reverse effect. These changes in size are in themselves reversals. A large girl and small puppy end up to be a large puppy and a small girl. In Sylvia and Bruno, we are presented with an antigravity wool that can be placed into a parcel to make it weigh less than nothing, a watch that reverses time, a black light, and a projective plane with outside inside and inside outside. We learn that E-V-I-L is simply L-I-V-E backwards. In the looking glass world, the Red Queen knows of a hill so large that compared to it the hill in question is a valley. Also, she knows of dry biscuits which quench thirst, a messenger who whispers by shouting, and Alice who runs as fast as she can to stay in one place. (Sometimes it seems we really do have to run fast to stay in place.) The King of Hearts thinks it's not unusual to write letters to nobody, and the White King compliments Alice on having keen enough eyesight to see nobody at a great distance down the road. Can you see why this book was so good to program us? In the book Through the Looking Glass all asymmetrical objects (that means all objects which can't be superimposed on their mirrored image) "go the other way." There are left-right reversals. Tweedledee and Tweedledum are mirror image twins. The White Knight sings about squeezing his right foot into a left shoe, and there are several mentions of corkscrews. A Helix (a corkscrew) is an asymmetric structure with distinct left and right forms. The book's type of thinking was extended beyond asymmetrical objects to asymmetrical relations of all types. For example, Alice walks backward, in the railway carriage the guard tells her she is traveling the wrong way. The Icing has two messengers, "one to come and one to go." The White Queen explains the advantages of living backward in time, the looking glass cake is handed around first, then sliced. Odd and even numbers, which are equivalent to left and right or on and off are worked into the story at several points. For instance, the White Queen requests jam every other day. Going through the looking glass takes us to a world where the ordinary world is turned upside down and backward. Things go every which way except the way they are supposed to go. Anti-matter is a mirror image. Anti-matter milk will explode Alice, but an Anti-matter Alice on the other side of the looking glass can drink the anti-matter milk. In Chapter 11, Alice captures the Red Queen. It results in a legitimate checkmate of the Red King, who has slept through the entire live size chess game without moving. The checkmate ends the dream, but leaves open in the story the question of whether the dream was Alice's or the Red King's. The programming has so often been only a dream to us. The outside world was so often just an unreal dream to us. What was real and what was not real? The real world (for other people) was full of contradictions, and the unreal world (our internal world) was consistent. Everything was upside down, forwards and backwards. In the Looking Glass book, one shuttles back and forth mysteriously between real and dream worlds. "So, either I've been dreaming about life or I only dream that life is but a dream." As we broke away from our programming our life was a bewildering confusion as we were pulled between two worlds. The internal world had everything we needed, the external world was a harsh cold reality that didn't have much to offer. We are thankful that there were people in the external world which helped make it real for us, and who gave us a reason to want to come out of the internal reality which we were programmed to believe in. For so long much of life was a dream. It was hard to get a grasp on what was real and what was the lie. Many of the lies were more real to us when we were programmed than the truth. Life was sometimes like the parallel dreams of the Red King and Alice, like two mirrors facing each other.

LILITH Our System was designed by the Illuminati. To understand fully, requires that people learn something about the beliefs and practices of the Illuminati Our System was designed to function in Illuminati rituals. Our Mothers of Darkness alters were taught those things that the Illuminati think are important for their people to know. The alters, who are in this picture, are our Mothers of Darkness alters who were skilled in a number of areas for the cult. Recently, on television a show portrayed a village of women who have sex with males and then sacrifice them. The show was portraying by accident or secret design the ritual practice of the Mothers of Darkness. The false gods of Babylon, India and Egypt had false trinities. The Mothers of Darkness alters are on pedestals and they have been taught that they are goddesses. On each pedestal is a trinity, three Mother alters who spin together. One alter is the maiden, one is the mother, and the other is the old crone. The old crone is the wise one which lurks in the background. The owl in the System was just one way that our Master made his presence known. The owl is an important guiding source of wisdom in the occult world. The tree roots are symbolized by the veins of the leaves that run behind all the activity of the dark part of the System seen here. The tree roots and branches ran through our System. This tree got its life from the blood of sacrifices. What do I mean by this? The story of Lilith plays a role in the makeup of our System. What our Mothers of Darkness learned about Lilith was that she was the first wife of Adam. She was very rebellious, and got lucked out of the Garden of Eden by God. Almighty God then created Eve from Adam Eve would be more obedient because she was from his own flesh. Meanwhile Lilith got enraged and dashed her new born son's head against a rock. Her son called out to Satan. The earth cries out to God for revenge for the innocent blood that has been shed. In Satanism, this is reversed. The blood of Lilith's son cries out to Satan for revenge. This is in rebellion against God. The blood continually calls to Satan for revenge. The blood is the eternal life force. The blood keeps the tree alive. The tree contains the programming and the programming is taken care of by the demons. The blood of Lilith's son is in a box beneath our System's tree. On top of the box is the blood of the first male child [whom] we were forced to sacrifice. This is what gives life to the tree that runs through our System and our body. Note that the box opens up to nine chambers which are part of the Cabalistic Tree of Life. Our programmers were adepts at Cabalistic magic. It is very significant to renounce and break the blood oaths and blood sacrifices. This was an important part of our journey toward freedom.

MOLOCH This picture is very revealing. This picture tears away at the secrecy of the most innermost major mechanisms of the System. For instance, the mice run up and down and open up new levels of programming and are tied to the pendulum and clock mechanism. The mice can activate the hour glass, and a gold-winged green skirted fairy Whisper balances the hour glass on her wings. First, we will concentrate on the top figure the homed Bull which represents Moloch. Then we will discuss the Quadrants, Compass, Thor, etcetera. The top figure in this picture is Moloch. We had a Temple of Moloch in our System where they put the memories of the babies that were sacrificed. There is a great deal of disinformation and skepticism about child sacrifices. Much of this comes from the control of the Illuminati over our entire educational and information dispensing process. However, there is overwhelming evidence that the Satanic practices of today have been historically practiced for many thousands of years. The massive ancient burial site of Tanit (known in Hebrew as Tophet) has been uncovered by archeologists near Jerusalem. This burial site has burial urns used for the ashes of sacrificed babies which have pictures and decorated text which refer explicitly to the child sacrifices that the urns were part of. There were over 7000 burial urns from the late period of use of the burial site. All levels of society, from rich to poor sacrificed their children to appease the gods, especially the god commonly known as Moloch. The elite bloodlines of the Mystery Religions (what is now called the Illuminati) carried out sacrifices of their children more often than the average people of that day. The Tanit ritual site was used for over a thousand years (and probably is in use today secretly). The thousands of baby remains and thousands of burial urns are irrefutable proof that infant sacrifice not only existed in ancient times, it went on for thousands of years. Several historical works refer to the Council of Elders in Sparta who would inspect newborn babies. If the babies didn't make the grade of this inspection the Council of Elders would have them killed by throwing them off Mount Taggetus into the Apotheta. As a child of an Illuminatus, our System was taken before the Grand Druid Council and given an inspection while we were nude. The inspection was very in-depth. Fortunately, we passed the test. There are physical criteria concerning the body which must be met. One of the young men our Mothers of Darkness helped program for the Illuminati worked for Manly P. Hall. Manly P. Hall sat on the Grand Druid Council at one time. He is dead now. His massive book The Secret Teachings of All Ages is a major reference work on the Mystery Religions. On page C (page 100) he talks about rings. "In the Mysteries, rings chased to resemble a serpent with its tail in its mouth were worn by the initiates as material evidence of the position reached by them in the order." Both our actual father, who was at one time a Grand Master, and the person we were given to after he died (who was also a Grand Master), wore silver rings with a snake swallowing its tail. This is proof for those who have publicly seen those rings on their fingers that these men who were our masters had powerful positions within the Illuminati which is the continuation of the Mystery Religions. Freemasonry claims to be a continuation of the Mysteries also. Although Freemasonry functions more as a school to preserve the symbology and ritual than being the actual organization. By the way, when our deeper Grande Dame alters helped program that young man, they helped make glitches in the programming so that the programming would later be defective. Obviously, they did this very quietly behind the backs of the Programmers. This man was later able to break free of his Monarch Mind Control. We are happy that we played the first step in his journey to freedom. At the center of the System are the mechanisms that control it, such as the Master Computer, the All-Seeing Eye, the Compass, the Master Clock, and the Quadrants that tie in together. The System had three hourglasses spinning on axes. These hour glasses can also be called matrixes, which are on your standard three axes, an X axis, a Y axis, and a Z axis. The worlds are various sections of these matrixes. The picture shows how there are backup worlds and mirror image worlds. We have a double system. Each alter was split so that every alter has another alter created from her. Then there are demonic doubles—demonic mirror images in the System. The double images shown in the picture are very real when describing our System. Some therapists have noticed "Satanic Guardian Angels" which talk to their patients. They do not know what to make of these. Some classify them as hallucinations, because they do not have any room in their belief system for demonology. These are the demons that do control the multiple's mind. Thor, with his huge hammer turned out to be a painful demon. Thor was in our System, and is depicted as a black stone figure at the top. His hammer is behind the top of the girl on the far right. When his hammer would strike, we'd get split brain headaches. They used the story of the Giant with the Hammer in the Ozma of Oz book (pages 141 through 155) to give us the imagery when programming us. A special series of sweeping motions with both hands will relieve the split-brain programming, but some alters can only tolerate these hand signals being done by the master. Our Thor was made of cast iron and carried an iron mallet. We had to use God's spiritual power and the Blood of Jesus Christ of Nazareth to destroy the Temple of Moloch.

BUTTERFLIES The person may look on the outside like they have it together, but on the inside the participants of the Mysteries have been fragmented. The person and the therapist have only pieces to work with. Even if those pieces seem innocent, somewhere in the fragmented mind are memories such as what our Temple of Moloch held. There was nothing that was not done to us. One of the tortures they put us through was a humiliating butterfly torture. It is very painful to remember, and very humiliating. Sometimes we have silently cried out for help. The blue butterfly represents the Monarch Programming. Small blue butterflies would be tattooed on some of their victims. We have worn butterflies berets out of a combination of a fascination for what was programmed into us, a silent call for help, and a silent expose of what they have done. We also have butterflies in our System, thousands of them. Some are very beautiful. The picture tells that there is a story. There is an untold story of thousands of what appear to be beautiful women who are on the inside of their minds merely beautiful C I A butterflies. There is the untold story of how their humanity was violently stripped from them and how they were dehumanized. And no one has stopped the production of these human butterflies. The Monarch butterfly is said to always go home to its point of origin. There the Monarch butterfly creates a new generation, like the salmon which return to their point of origin. We were given a relatively inactive period of use when the cult left us alone to raise our family when the age of the body was in its thirties. We were later to go back to replace our Aunt's position in the Hierarchy. By allowing us to raise a family, we developed a good cover, and we provided them with more items to blackmail us with. They threatened us repeatedly that if we did not comply that we would lose our kids and grandchildren. One of the people we were teamed with did lose a son. He was killed via his programming. We hope that his death was not in vain. We are going to speak the truth so that his death was not in vain.

