

SACRIFICING LIBERTY IN THE NAME OF SECURITY by Fritz Springmeier

I decided to write up something about the latest world crisis created when three airplanes hit important sites in America. I would call it the 9-1-1 crisis, since 9's and 11's seem associated with the event. Some people will have access to what is circulating on the internet and will have garnered all the facts they want. But for those who are interested in learning more about the crisis, I have written the following article.

All the standard old deceptions used for centuries by the elite have been employed in this latest operation. The goal of this operation is social engineering of the world's population. There is not a shred of doubt in my mind that this was orchestrated by a small elite running this planet.

George Bush, Senior, had a joint bank account with Saddam during the Gulf War, and I was aware of this. I was not in the least bit surprised that nothing was done to Saddam Hussein. Saddam Hussein was supplied with his biological weapons by the United States and also received financial help and some military hardware from the west. Now history comes close to repeating itself.

Our current President (George, Junior) gave a gift of 43 million American dollars to the Taliban leadership on May 24, 2001. What makes this outrageous is that more than 100 congressmen the day before had sent him a letter begging him to intervene on behalf of religious minorities in Afghanistan who are being required to wear identification labels on their clothes to differentiate them from Muslims. Like Saddam Hussein, our C I A trained and helped get Bin Laden into the terrorist business. My guess is that they will keep Bin Laden around, like they did Hussein.

Saddam Hussein and Bin Laden are the best enemies that money could buy for the elite who want global conflicts in order to social engineer the planet.

Basically, what we have is a manufactured crisis, that they are going to use to get us into more trouble.

By more trouble I mean many things, one of which is war. All this talk about war with Afghanistan is insanity. If Russia, which is next door to Afghanistan, and gave it its best shot, got defeated, then our washed-out technology-heavy video game military is not going to do any better.

I don't know how much you the reader have been reading about all this, so please excuse me if you are already aware of the following.

1. How do hijackers get four planes without sky marshals or any other security being around? And why have some obvious easy to install security measures not been implemented?
2. Rather than implementing measures that will work, we have these sad events followed by overkill overreactions. The border with Canada has been shut down for days, causing enormous hardships and economic chaos. Why? The border with Mexico has been basically business as usual.
3. How does an American aircraft carrier turn around and head for New York City before any aircraft have hit the

- World Trade Center buildings? Are they following psychics in the Navy?
4. How do the establishment T V news anchors immediately begin pointing the finger at Bin Laden, within a few minutes of the attack?
 5. How does a network of several hundred people operate in this nation when all telephone conversations are monitored, and they have double agents in every organization I can think of?
 6. How do buildings that are built to withstand the impact of a Boeing 7 O 7 crumble from the bottom when they are hit at the top? One guy as he rode an elevator down in the World Trade Center said he heard explosions going off in the building at different levels. Makes sense to me. A fireman who went to the twenty-fourth floor on his last trip said he heard a bomb go off. The establishment are trying to tell us the intense heat collapsed the structure.
 7. A building [World Trade Center 7] near the twin World Trade Center towers blew up [along with] the Twin Towers collapsing. This is most suspicious.

It is not my goal to list every suspicious circumstance of the World Trade Center attack. I am simply trying to point out the kind of things that don't add up.

Even though most Americans will not realize that this thing was created, I still have hopes

It is times like this that I have to have inner peace. This world is so crazy, it could make a person weep. There is oversupply of anger and stupidity in this world, and an undersupply of peace, love and objectivity. I don't know how people who don't have faith in God keep their sanity.

This world would like to drag us down to its level... living in terror and anger from second to second. Let's rise above the individual eye level of Joe Sixpack, and give a small example of something better.

Let's not lose our heads and hearts. Our nation needs to learn how to love others. I would hope that Americans will mourn the innocent civilians that our state sponsored terrorism is planning on killing in the name of revenge.

Our nation has long needed to learn to love others. It's time we quit supporting the genocide of Palestinians, actively causing the mass murders of a million Iraqi civilians, etcetera. Confession would be good for our collective souls. Instead, we get a saloon-type brawl between nations with weapons of mass destruction. At least some will see this attack is not a reason to take away more of our scarce liberty.

Anyway, I don't know if I'm saying anything you haven't thought of or heard. I'm just hoping that you will not let this thing steal our peace of mind. They are going to get more of our money. They will get some of our sons and daughters, who march off to war thinking that they are fighting evil. But I hope they don't get our hearts, our minds, and the peace in our hearts. This is just my viewpoint. What do you think? Yours, Fritz
What I wrote the morning of the attack still holds true, and I attach it to the bottom of my more recent article.... Who are the next victims from Order out of Chaos? —from Fritz, morning and mourning of 9 1 1 0 1. Christ said, "Blessed are the peace makers." But our nation is already preparing to lash out. C B S's anchorman blathered that it was O.K. that America hit the wrong targets when we retaliated for the embassy bombings because we showed the world we could lash out, reach out, and hit someone. If our leaders really want to protect us, de-escalate the violence, don't escalate it. Will any leaders have the sense not to over-react, or will every last one of them follow along with the most recent Order out-of Chaos script?

One of the spin-offs from this event is that the lives of peaceful freedom fighters in America are in danger. It is a very dangerous for people the World Order doesn't like. Allow me to warn you.

This Order out of Chaos event is being labeled a second Pearl Harbor. Emergency Net had (as some of you know) given a warning on September 7, 2001. Prior to the first Pearl Harbor, the F B I had made out lists of the leaders within the Japanese-American community. These were the men who were most respected and intelligent. Many were excellent businessmen, and all were loyal to the United States. The arrests began while the attack was underway.

They wanted to "decapitate" the Japanese-American community so that they would have a harder time stopping the next two lists of arrests. Without community leaders, the rest would just be individuals ripe for seizing and looting. Three lists were used in sequence, and by the end of the third list, essentially all Japanese-Americans had been sent to [internment] camps. I've heard it said that these camps were not as bad as the German camps, as if that somehow made them acceptable. These innocent people lost their businesses and farms, which were seized and never returned. They lost all that they had worked their entire lives for. And the hysteria the media is quietly stirring up now could lay the groundwork for a similar tragedy. By the way, if you don't know it, the lists are already made up.

If a rounding-up is to occur, what kind of innocent people are targeted?

You know people are going to be rounded up. But it is not likely we will hear much about it. So, the question remains, who will be the innocent victims who have to endure some of the fallout of this sad event?

We do not have to become the battleground of insanity. What is ill with our nation? For starters our leaders are stiff-necked, proud, and arrogant.

Terrorism is encouraged when the rights of people are trampled on and they have no voice. It is sad that we have to drag ourselves through all these sad events. One of the best ways our leaders could really protect us from terrorism is to protect the rights of others around the world. But that wouldn't give them an excuse for more tyranny.

One of the first things our new President said in response to this attack was that "Freedom will be defended." I suggest that to understand this, understand that it is meant to distract you from what is to happen, which is just the opposite. Read my lips and watch the news, and see for yourself if the common person is more free or more restricted in the coming days. We have another wave of disguised tyranny in the works.

We must work on. We must be stoic. We must be a spiritual blessing to each other. We must not lose our nerve. We are merely experiencing the kind of pain many other nations have had to experience. We must not allow ourselves to be stampeded into some passionate hate by the establishment media. Within the first hour, the establishment media was already telling us that we had to “hate”. How dare they tell us our feelings.

Let us not lose our identity and become part of the mass of a screaming, anxiety-filled, media-directed mob. Our nation needs to calmly develop new and positive relationships with other peoples.

We often are our own worst enemy. It is one of the prices we pay for being human. Our nation is often our own worst enemy. But no matter what mistakes each of us has made, or [what mistakes] our nation has made, there can still be a time of restoration. This is one of the strong messages of Christ: He gave hope when people had given up hope. Never think that you can't be made whole, don't think that you can't be forgiven. Let us look inside ourselves and improve ourselves as a nation—we can change ourselves if we want, but it is doubtful that the terrorists will listen to our retaliatory terrorism any more than our leaders will listen to their terrorism.

A very wise man once told us, “Blessed are the peacemakers.”

[Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.]
